

DCYC 2010 Update #1

Greetings! I will be sending regular updates about DCYC right up until the conference. Please do make a point to read through these updates - flag them or save them to a file if you don't have time to read them now.

General Information for Parish Leaders

Read the attached files that has all of the deadlines and details you will want to know to prepare your group for their best DCYC ever.

Youth Ministry Awards

Many parish leaders are so busy that they never take the time to request parish and/or diocesan awards for their people. Please take the time to look at the awards that will be offered this year and consider nominating your teens and adults for some of these awards. I was speaking to a CYM recently who said, "when the awards were being given out last year, our youth and adults were wondering when their names would be called but I had forgotten to send any names in." Don't let that happen to you. The process is easy and explained through the attached information and forms.

DCYC Conference Choir and Band

This year we will again be putting together a Conference Choir and Band for DCYC. Please invite your talented youths and adults to participate. We are limited to about 25 youth and 5 adults but last year we didn't get anywhere close to that. Remember our goal behind bringing together the musical gifts of the young church at DCYC is to inspire them to greater involvement in their parish music ministry and to develop their understanding of "music ministry". Again, we are blessed this year to have Jesse Manibusan direct the conference choir and band. Joining him will be Ben Briones, and Eddie Reusewald. To get your people into the choir, ask them to fill out the attached Conference Choir and Band Application. It does have a lot of questions but that will enable Jesse and Vince to better use their gifts over the weekend. Thanks for supporting our DCYC Conference Choir and Band!

Please see the latest version of the DCYC 2010 schedule attached!

Watch for more updates. These will be posted on the website as well.
